The inner margin of the medial band is curved inwards, the outer margin is very irregular and uneven; in the cell the band does not reach the apex, but beyond the cell there are one or two cream-yellow spots, and the black groundcolour is irrorated with yellowish scales; finally at the tornal angle there is an oval ochraceous-red spot emarginate on its inner side in the female and in both sexes surmounted by a blue lunule; while in interspace 7 between the medial band and the postdiscal spot there is a large ocellus-like spot of the black ground-colour more or less irrorated with blue scales. I would still give it a little more time.

I have fennel, dill and parsley and a few Eastern Blackshave laid eggs on them. On the underside of the hind wing, the black at base of wing and along the dorsal margin centred largely with pale cream-colour; the ocellus in interspace 7, the apex of the cell and the black groundcolour between the medial band and postdiscal markings in interspaces centred with ochraceous, margined with blue. Would you like to start raising butterflies in ? When I have released them, I compare them to horses out of the starting gate – up and away!

Sosad, I had 3 inchrysalis last night and today they are gone. However, they to my comment above from Aug. I will try to join the Raising butterflies site.
